

Let You Slide

*Four long years we've been struggling with this thing
Wanted things perfect but you couldn't decide
Tried so hard but nothing seemed good enough
Seems like you were somewhere else most of the time*

*But I've been there
Lately my heart's been calling me somewhere else too
And I hope you meant some of the things you said*

*Even though I doubt it
But I let you slide
Wanna believe though I doubt it
So I let you slide*

*Though it's hard to think now one day you'll forget me
Just saying the words makes me sick inside
Once and always I tried with you, it's never enough
To stay by your side*

I can't make it work, Oh no what is this Can't seem to ever quite get things right
